

A Book For Me!

Fill out this form to request help finding the perfect item. Please provide as much information as possible.

* Required

1. First and last name: *

2. Date of Request *

Example: December 15, 2012

3. 1) How should we contact you? *

Check all that apply.

Email

Call

4. Please provide your phone number or email address *

5. 2) Library Card Number: *

6. 3) What are you looking for? (Please choose 3 max.) *

Check all that apply.

Book

Large Print Book

Audiobook on CD

Graphic Novel/Manga

E-Book

Downloadable Audiobook

Fiction Genres

* Refer to the definitions or examples if needed

7. 4) What is your favorite genre/subject of books or movies? (Please choose 3 max.) Check all that apply.*

- SCIENCE FICTION (SCI-FI). Imagined future scientific or technological advances and major social or environmental changes (example: Ender's Game)
- ACTION. Many challenges that typically include extended fighting, physical feats, and frantic chases in a book (example: The Maze Runner)
- FANTASY. Fiction that emphasizes magic and/or mythical worlds and beings (example: Harry Potter Series)
- URBAN FANTASY. Supernatural characters placed in a modern society (example: City of Bones Series)
- ADVENTURES. Road trips, quests, voyages of discovery, and other journeys (example: Paper Towns)
- MYSTERY. Plot where a person (sometimes a detective or professional) investigate crimes, secrets or problems.(example: Pretty Little Liar Series)
- DYSTOPIA. A community or society that is undesirable or frightening (example: The Hunger Games)
- HORROR. Plot intended to frighten, scare, disgust, or startle (example: Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children)
- URBAN FICTION. Plot set in an urban city focusing on the underside of city living (example: Bluford High Series)
- HISTORICAL FICTION. Story that uses true information and characteristics from the time period in which it is set. (example: Fever 1793)
- ROMANCE. Evolving relationship between two or more people (example: The Fault in our Stars)
- DRAMA. Plot with a series of realistic problems or issues in the characters life (example: The DUFF)
- COMEDY. A story characterized by humorous people and/or situations (example: It's Kind Of A Funny Story)
- LGBTQIA. Story that features lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, intersexual and/or asexual characters (example: Simon vs. The Homo Sapiens Agenda)
- Other: _____

8. What is the last book or book series you enjoyed reading? *

9. Anything else you want us to know?

For any further questions please Email or Call Ja'nirah Polk

jpolk@libraryconnection.info

860-243-9721

Powered by Google Forms